THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Every State in Line.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PROCEEDINGS

At fifteen minues past noon the convention was called to order by Hon. William Claflin, of Massachusetts, chairman of the National Executive Committee. Mr. Claflin said:

Gentlemen of the Convention: Elected according to the usage of the Republican party in convention of the people, held in every State, you have assembled for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the two highest offices in the gift of the American people. You represent a party founded on the broadest principles of freedom, justice and humanity, and whose achievements have been the wonder and admiration of the civilized world. The promises of reform and progress made four years since have been faithfully fulfilled. [Applause.] In the guarantee by the nation of equal rights to all; in the reduction of the public expenditures and the public debt; in the decrease of the public burdens; in the improvements of public credit; in the establishment of the public faith that no act of repudiation shall ever stain the statute book, and in securing peace and order throughout the entire Rebublic.

You are summoned to declare anew your fidelity to these principles and purposes which have brought such beneficent results to the nation. We will not fear that the people will desert those who have been faithful to their high trust, for other men and other organization, although they may adopt our principles and promise to adhere to our policy. Let us go forward with confident faith that our cause will triumph; notwithstanding unexpected defections, over all combinations, however skillfully planned, because in its continued success are centred the best interests and the highest hopes of the country.

In conclusion he called upon Rev. Alexander Reed of Philadelphia, who addressed the throne of Grace, asking a divine blessing on the nation and this assemblage of Representatives.

Music by the band.

Ex-Governor Claflin then nominated Hon. MORTON M'MICHAEL

as temporary chairman, and Hon. H. S. Lane, J. H. Platt of Virginia and Mr. Lewis (colored) of Louisiana conducted him to the chair. [Applause.] Mr. McMichael, on taking the chair, said:

Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for the privilege presented, even for the brief period I shall enjoy that honor, of presiding over such an assembly as this. I am the more gratified because, as a delegate from Pennsylvania, and a resident of Philadelphia, it gives me an occasion to welcome you to our State and city, and to say to you all how glad we are to have you among us; how careful we shall endeavor to promote your comfort while you remain with us, and how desirous that when you leave us you will leave with such impressions as you will frequently to return. Under any circumstances the presence of so many distinguished men, gathered from all parts of this mighty land, which grows and stretches so rapidly that in these recurring quadrennial conventions new States, new Territories, and in this case, happily for the cause of humanity and progress, a new race—new at least in the possession of political rights and civil functions, and soon to be endowed with all the attributes of equality, are represented—under any circumstances your presence it would be to us a source of satisfaction; and is especially so in view of the purpose which has brought you hither.

The gentlemen who recently met at Cincinnati were without constituency. The Democrats who are soon to meet at Baltimore, will be without a principle. The former, having no motive in common but personal disappointment, are cooped a fusion of repelling elements, which has resulted in explosion. The latter, degraded from the high estate they once occupied, purpose an abandonment of their identity, which means death. Unlike the first, You are the authentic exponents of a great national organization, based upon principle, "firm as the marble, foundation as the rock, and as broad and general as the air we breathe."

Unlike the last, your object is to preserve, not to destroy; and, gentlemen, differing from both these in character and aims, you will differ no less in the nature of your deliberations. On the subject which has most perplexed and must continue to perplex their councils, in yours—rather let me say in ours—there will be absolute harmony. With us the selection of a Presidential candidate is a foregone conclusion. In that regard the people have decided for us in advance, and we have only to put their will into the proper shape by formally nominating Ulysses S. Grant, and, with the blessing of God, we shall not only make the nomination with out demur, without debate, with out dissent, but we shall make it under such auspices as will insure its complete and abundant ratification at the polls.

It does not need, nor, considering my temporary occupation of this chair, would it be suitable, that I should enter into any elaborate commentary as to the merits of our candidate; but this I will say, that notwithstanding all the malignant venom that has been spit at him; all the odious calumnies that have been heaped upon him; all the disgraceful slanders that have been circulated in regard to him, Gen. Grant, at this moment, enjoys more of the confidence of his countrymen, and is believed by them to be an honester, truer, and better man than any of his detractors. No one in our day has been more causelessly, more shamelessly vilified, and no one will be more thoroughly vindicated. The great heart of the American people beats responsive to truth and justice, and as they have tried, and, tested, and trust him; as they know that his administration has been wise and faithful; as they have seen the nation prosper and her his rule as it never before prospered, they will stand by and defend, and when the ballot-box gives them a chance to do so, avenge him. Remembering the sore trials which, along with his fellow-soldiers, he underwent during the war; his sacrifices of ease and comfort; his perils by day and by night; the exposures, by means of which those who now revile him were able to secure luxuries repose at a safe distance from danger, they are quite willing he should indulge in "palace cars, and cigars, and seaside loiterings," and they mean to furnish him with the opportunity enjoying these for at least four years to come.

As to the Vice Presidency, no doubt, gentlemen, there will be various preferences. Some of us will at first favor one, some another, but we shall all try to obtain the best man, and when the choice is ultimately made I trust we shall all feel that we have succeeded.

In regard to the platform to be adopted it is not for me to anticipate, but along with other important doctrines, it will undoubtedly contain the widest recognition of human freedom and the clearest affirmation of the duties which the Government owes to its laboring masses, wherever and however employed, in town or country, and with such candidates and such a creed, whether we have to encounter the decaying remnantt of it once powerful party, but now so feeble teat it is piteous to its enemy, for succor, or an incongruous alliance of ill-sorted factions with no bond of unity but the greed of office, or all of them combined, we shall go forth conquering and to conquer.

Committee on Credentials, Permanent Organization and Resolutions, were then appointed. From North Carolina James L. Hillyer was placed on the first, James H. Harris on the second and J. W. Hood on the last.

Loud calls were then made for Gen. Logan, Gerret Smith, Senator Morton of Indiana, Gen. Oglesly of Ill., J. H. Harris (col) of N. C., and Hon. R. B. Elliott (col) of S. C., all of whom responded in able and telling speeches. Then loud calls were made for Wm. H. Gray, a colored man from Arkansas. He spake as follows:

SPEECH OF WILLIAM H. GRAY, OF ARKANSAS.

Gentlemen of the Convention: For the first time probably in the history of the American people there stands before you in a National Convention assembled a representative of that oppressed race that has lived among you two hundred and fifty years. By the magnanimity of the great nation, lifted by the power of God and the laws of war from degradation of slavery to this proud position of American citizenship. [Great applause.] Words fail me upon this occasion to thank you for the evidence of grand progress in civilization, where a people of such magnitude, the proudest and the greatest nation upon the face of the earth, not only in the recognition of the merit and the glory of the war which her noble sons waged so successfully, have, in convention assembled, been willing to listen not only to the greatest of her orators, but to the humblest citizens of this great republic. [Applause.]

I scarcely known where to begin upon an occasion like this. If I raise the curtain of the past, then I open the doors of the sarcophagus from which we have but just emerged. If I go back to the primary history of my race in this country, I would open perhaps to discussion things and circumstances that would make us blush and the blood upon our cheek to tingle in view of the evidences of the condition of our race such as the American people have never thought of in its degradation, shame, and humble condition, from which we have just emerged. But this is scarcely necessary. We are ready to say in the words of the Good Book, "Let the dead bury its dead." While we remember these errors; while we remember these degradations, there is no vengeance, in our God, found in our hearts—no revengeful feelings, no desire of retaliation. But God has given us a heart to thank the American people for the position in which we stand to-day, and we are willing, as I said before, to let the dead bury its dead; and to go on in our progress and fit ourselves to become what we have been made by law, American citizens in deed and in fact. [Applause.]

It is the wonder of the world, the miracle of the nineteenth century, that in this great struggle, which rocked this country from center to circumference, that amid the debris of two hundred and fifty years a living people were found by this great nation and lifted from that degradation, as it were, by the strong arm of power at once, without preparation, and without forethought. Places, as I have before remarked, upon the broad plane of American citizenship, if we have failed somewhat in the sanguine expectation of our friends, yet, upon the whole, I think we have fairly worked the problem so far as we have gone; and to-day, for the first time, God has pleased me with the sight of that grand, noble old man, Gerrit Smith, [applause] who stood by us and for us when we could not stand for ourselves. [Tremendous applause.] The sight of him repays me for all toil, all the suffering, all the pain of years. The sight of him to-day revives my faith in that humanity which is divine. [Prolonged applause.]

We are here to-day, gentlemen, a part and parcel of this great people, an integral part of the great body of this country, and here for the purpose, in harmony with you, of intrusting the reins of power in the hands of that hero who led us through a great, bloody struggle of years; led us out to citizenship, and who, when the war ended and he was nominated for President, in 1868, said: "Let us have peace." The solving of the problem of our citizenship has been the work of years. No one knew how that position was to be brought about; but few men could comprehend the situation or the political position of affairs in the South. Few men knew. It happened to be present upon that occasion in Chicago in 1868 when General Grant was nominated, and when I went home to my State of Arkansas, I knew very well, and there are men here who can attest it, that that political canvass cost the lives of over three hundred black men in Arkansas to carry the State for Ulysses S. Grant. To-day the problem is being worked out to further solution. The Ku Klux problem is being worked out. The Ku Klux situation is settled, and the peace of the country secured. But had it not been for the law and the man at the helm, who had the nerve to execute it that organization would to-day be in full venom in that section of country.

Therefore, we urge upon the American people to give us Ulysses S. Grant for our candidate, for his name is a tower of strength at the South; and the only name that unrepentant rebels respect. [Prolonged cheers.]

He is also the man who is to work out the great problems now being solved in this country by the great Republican party. As has been truly said the past problem has not yet been fully solved, its duties are not entirley fulfilled, its organizations must not yet be disintegrated. The full measure of our citizenship is not yet completed. We stand many of us in a prominent position in the Southern States; but right among the people where we hold positions the law is so weak, and the public sentiment so perverse, that the common civilities of a citizan are withheld from us. We want the civil rights bill. [Applause.] We demand that we still be respected as men among men—as free American citizens.

We do not ask that for any small reason. There are always two classes of people we have to be afraid of—that class who love us too well, and that class who hate us too much. [Laughter.] All we ask is a fair share in the race of life. Give us the same privileges that are given to other men. I hope the action of this Convention will be such that we may be able to go home rejoicing. So far as the colored people of the South are concerned they are a unit to-day for Ulysses S. Grant. [Cheers.] I know they have told us "the niggers can now go for the father of Republicanism." When we objected to this, on the grown that he was not the Republican nominee they said, "He is the father of Republicanism"

Said I, "Very well: if that is so, I thank him for having been the father of such a brood of illustrious and loyal men, but I fear, if like Abraham of old, he takes Hagar instead of Sarah, we can not afford it." [Laughter.] If you do this we do not intend to recognize any of these outside children. [Renewed laughter.] There is the inheritance of the free woman; the legitimate offspring of the old man, and we are going to keep the boys all at home. [Cheers.] I fear some of these talkers are like the Ishmaelites of old, and the old lady will have to hunt for water in the wilderness. [Great applause.] The black people of the State of Arkansas are solid. They know who are their friends. They know very well there is no standing for the black man out side the Republican party. [Cheers.] They know they can not afford to vote against their best friends, and they will not do it. They will all vote for Grant from the State of Arkansas to the Gulf of Mexico. [Cheers.]

After some unimportant business was transacted, a call was made for the Hon. James L. Orr, of South Carolina, who was Speaker of the National House of Representatives under the old Democratic regime, and subsequently to the war the Provisional Governor of South Carolina, by appointment of President Johnson.

Governor Orr is quite a venerable-looking man, with a remarkably high forehead, and a peculiarly effective manner of speaking. As he is one of the most notable of the thoroughly reconstructed Southern leaders, his remarks where listened to with deep attention. He acknowledged that he had been on "the other side," but had been won over to Grant because the latter had never failed in anything he had undertaken and because, in all his treatment of the Sonth during the war, he had never forgotten that he was both a soilder and a gentleman. Governor Orr was elaborate in his eulogy of the President, whose re-election he deemed essential to the preservation of the peace. He dwelt at considerable length upon the Ku Klux question, fully justifying the course of Congress and the President, and alleging that the Ku Klux law was passed in obedience to the thunders of the New York Tribune. His reference to the course of the Tribune was received with great applause. Altogether, the past record and present standing of Governor Orr caused his remark to make a deep and permanent impression upon the convention.

THE PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The Committee on Permanent Organization, through its chirman, made its report as follows:

Permanent President—Judge Thomas Settle, of North Carolian.

Mr. Settle is a resident of Rockingham county, in this State. By profession he is a lawyer, and is 40 years of age. He has been in public life since he was 21. During the war he was a Union man. He was Speaker of the House and president of the Senate of North Carolina during and since the war. In 1868 he was elected Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. In 1870 he was appointed Minister to Peru, which he resigned in January of the present year. He is now a candidate for Congress in the Fifth district.

One vice president and one secretary were reported from each of the States and Territories. The report was unanimously adopted.

THOMAS SETTLE

The permanent president was introduced, and spoke as follows:

I thank you for the distinction of presiding over the deliberations of the convention of the greatest party in the greatest power on the earth. I accept it, not so much as a personal triubte to myself, but as an honor extended to the oppressed, erring and regenerated sisters of the south by the delegates of the North. We have yet duties to perform, and we have it may be, to name the man who shall manage the affairs of this great Republic for the next four years. Our duties are plain. We should be recreant to every trust, and fail to respond to the vibration of every patriotic heart, if we failed to name with one voice the soldier patriot, U. S. Grant. We of the South recognize and demand it as a necessity. I shall not seek to detain the convention at this time, but will be happy to respond before the convention closes.

On motion, H. H. Bingham, of Philadelphia was chosen first secretary

The convention then adjourned till 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

On Thursday June 6th the Opera House was early filled to its utmost capacity. Thrilling speeches were made by Republicans from every section, making promises of a large vote for the General who fought through the Wilderness, and the President who is carrying the nation safe through the entanglements with which he found her surrounded on his accession to the Presidency. From Oregon, Mr. Devor brought the report that his State had, on Monday redeemed herself from four years of Democratic misrule and now stands Republican in Legislature and Congress. An ex-rebel from Texas—Gen. George W. Carter, who admitted that he had been in error and thankfully accepted the free pardon tendered to repenant seceders—said that the people of his State would support Grant rather than Greeley, preferring a consistent opponent to one who promoted the quarrel and subsequently sought to curry favor and purchase Southern votes by signing the bail bond of Jeff Davis and making laudatory speeches to the Southern people. Mr. Scambach of Alabama defined the political strength of Carl Schurz when he said that hardly a corporal's guard of Alabama Germans would attend the Senator's political funeral. Messrs. Henderson of Missouri and Storrs of Illinois made tolling speeches.

While the convention waited for the report of the Committee loud calls were made on the colored Secretary of State of Mississippi. He made an able and eloquent speech, pledging the support of the colored voters of his State to the soldier who carved out their path of freedom with his sword. His speech was received with tremendous applause. General E. F. Noyes of Ohio, whose sacrifices for the nation on the battle-field entitle him to speak for the State. He said there was no dissatisfaction in Ohio, and she will give Grant a large increase on her vote of 1868. The few "Liberal Republicans" of his State are now ashamed of their attempt at a bolt, and are now better friends of Grant than before their diversion for Greeley and his old white hat. He moved to suspend the order of business and proceed to thenominations.

ILLINOIS NAMES THE PRESIDENT.

The Hon. Shelby S. Cullum, on behalf of the Republican party Illininois, in a most effective speech nominated for re election.

ULYSSES S. GRANT.

This was the signal for a scene of the most intense euthusiasm, cheer following cheer with waving of hats. At this moment a large picture of the President on horseback was unrolled at the back of the stage, and the welkin rang again with vociforous joy. Triumphal marches were played by the fine band, and the whole vast assemblage seemed filled with the exhileration of a fierce fight for a good cause under a tried leader, with every assurance of victory.

NEW YORK SECONDS THE NOMINATION.

It was the privilege of the Empire State to first respond to the nomination. She did this most nobly by a magnificent speech from Gen. Stuart L. Woodford, who in the course of his remarks gave the petty attempt of Charles Sumner to blacken the fame of our honored Chief Magistrate by foul aspersions, alleged to emanate from a dead patriot in his last hours, who, as Mr. Woodford undeniably showed, for years gave Grant his fullest confidence and warmest sympathy.

Several representatives of other States also eloquently seconded the nomination.

When the vote was taken each State in its turn cast every vote for Grant. There was no occasion to change a vote. Not even a complimentary mention of another candidate was made. All appeared to be fully assured Grant was the man for the place, the man to be elected. Such perfect unanimity was never seen in a political convention.

THE BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

The roll was called for the first ballot, which resulted as follows: As each State was called the chairman of its delegation in a few terse sentences announced its unanimous vote for Grant. Each announcement was the signal for applause. Nebraska in announcing its vote said:

"Nebraska gives six for the man who will tan the hide of Horace in the vat of Democratic corruption and damnation."

Mr. Townsend, in casting the vote of New-York, gave it for Grant, the man who Greeley said never had been beaten, and never would be. [Loud and uproarious applause.]

North Carolina said that, being the Tar State, she intended to stick to Grant.

On the call of Pennsylvania her chairman was greeted with great applause and loud cries of "platform!" "platform!"

Mr. MacMichael declined to come forward, but said Pennsylvania, without any words, but her whole heart, casts 57 votes for Grant.

When General Burnside rose to vote for Rhode Island, he was greeted with great cheers, continuing until he took the platform, when he cast eight votes for his old comrade in arms.

Mr. Mackey of South Carolina, said the delegates of that regenerated State, whose first gun at Sumter made Grant a possibility, instructed him to cast her vote for the great soldier.

Mr. Popham of Virginia

GRANT, WILSON AND THE PLATFORM.

For the benefit of those of our readers who do not receive the great city daily papers we devote our outside space in giving a pretty full synopsis of the proceedings of the National Republican Convention. The delegates did what the people expected and the country demanded in nominating Gen. GRANT for President. They did but a simple act of justice to the Administration which has lifted itself so nobly, and which has commended itself to the confidence of the country. Since the nomination of GEORGE WASHINGTON no Convention of the people has been possessed by such utter unanimity of feeling, and excepting perhaps the convention that nominated ABRAHAM LINCOLN, none in our history has exhibited such wonderful enthusiasm. The charges of corruption, of usurpation, of disregard of the constitution and the laws had no weight with the people. They knew that the same hatred and malice had been used against WASHINGTON and JEFFERSON and LINCOLN, while history vindicated their administrations, as it is doing that of GRANT as among the most splendid pages in the annals of the nation. The failures of the former Presidents did not prevent a second nomination and election, or shake the confidence of the people, and so to-day the Republican party confidently goes forth to action with a stronger faith and bolder assurance than it had four years ago.

The second place on the ticket has been given to a well known statesman—a man who, in his thirty years of public life, has shown unflinching devotion to principle and unimpeachable integrity. The worst enemy of HENRY WILSON, if enemy he has, can utter no truthful word against his personal honor. He is a strong man and a man of very sense of the word a true one. The platform is constructed with remarkable ability and vigor. It makes plain and distinct the record and the purpose of the party, and leaves no room for doubt as to its position and determination on all topics of national interest. The summary of the work of "eleven years of supremacy" is sharp, decisive, and indisputable. No other political organization in this country can or dare prefer such a claim as the Republican party boldly makes. Its success has been constant and beneficent, and it defies now the treachery of those it has honored, as it does the hostility of those it has often fought and always vanquished.

CAN'T BE BOUGHT.

The Republican party is not a follower of men. Neither CONKLING or MORTON or GRANT on the one hand nor SUMNER or SCHURZ or GREELEY on the other can lead it. All it demands from its members is obedience and loyality to PRINCIPLES. And to these are its adherents faithful. Of all the ridiculous invectives of an unscrupulous enemy, the story that official patronage can control the policy of the Republican party is the most insulting and absurd. Did not JOHNSON try it? Did he not offer all the patronage of the Government, which was considerably greater during his Administration than it is to-day, as prizes for political treason? How many worth buying did he get? Not one. It can't be done. No matter how popular the man, the moment he attempts to interfere with the free choice of the party, both as to men, principles, or measures, he gets the same rebuke that JOHNSON did or GREELEY does. It illustrates the fact that the Republican party rests not upon the shoulders of a few political leaders, but upon the self thinking masses, and that leaders are only influential as they prove the mouth-pieces of the popular will.

THE REPUBLICAN RECORD.

The Republican Party has a glorious record. It is bright and clear. Its past career is the best guarantee of its future. Out of Slavery it evolved Emancipation, out of War it brought Peace. The doctrines perilous to the national repose it settled on the battle-field and in the Council Chamber. At the close of the protracted struggle, when all was chaos and confusion, it entered upon the slow task of Reconstruction, and has finally given to every State its due representation in Congress, to all the people suffrage and to those who menaced the life of the nation Amnesty. At no time in our history could a party with more justice appeal to the suffrages of the people upon the record of its deeds, and upon the conduct of an Administration—by which the public burdens have been so largely relieved and the national prosperity so considerably advanced

"THERE'S NOTHING LIKE LEATHER."

A spicy cotemporary says that the TANNER and the SHOEMAKER having entered into a copartnership, our little difficulties will be heeled which will be good for our soles.

If our mechanics don't sew up Mr. GREELEY, so that he will completely peg out at last we will be much mistaken, that's awl.

Wanted.—Greely calf skins to tan. Apply to GRANT and WILSON, practical tanners and manufacturers.

The tanning and manufacturing business this season, will be unusally profitable. GRANT will tan the hides of the enemies of equal rights, and WILSON will make them up into shoes for liberty's vanguard.

THE "LIBERAL" PARTY.

A few weeks ago, at Cin., a new party was born. It was brought forth in envy and malice and baulked ambition and it is doing its level best to steal the name of "Republican." Let every true man beware of it, for this is not the first time the livery of Heaven was stolen for the use of the devil. It is not the first time that the wolf has put on sheep's clothing. It calls itself the "Liberal Republican" party, and in certain things it is "liberal" with a vengeance—liberal in its fulsome praises of the enemies of Freedom and more liberal in its bitter hatred and vile abuse of President GRANT.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Both parties have made their nominations for Congress in this State. The candidates are as follows:

First District—C. L. Cobb, Republican; D. M. Carter, Democrat.
Second District—C. R. Thomas Rep.; W. H. Kitchen, Dem.
Third District—Neill McKay, Rep.; A. M. Waddell, Dem.
Fourth District—W. A. Smith, Rep.; Sion H. Rogers, Dem.
Fifth District—Thomas Settle, Rep.; James M. Leach, Dem.
Sixth District—O. H. Dockery, Rep.; Thos. S. Ashe, Dem.
Seventh District—W. M. Furches, Rep.; W. M. Robbins, Dem.

HORACE GREELEY'S wonderful hold upon the affections and confidence of Republicans is well illustrated by the fact that of 280 country Republican newspapers, only twelve advocate his claims for the Pesidency. Should he receive the endorsement of the Baltimore Convention, draw every Democratic vote and a proportion of Republicans comparable to his newspaper support, he might count up a respectable minority. If, however, two Democrats stay away from the polls or vote for Gen. GRANT for every one Republican, or suppose the proportion should be ten to one, the Chappaqua farm will hardly be soon exchanged for the White House garden by the Great Woodchopper.

Senator WILSON, our candidate for Vice President, has not only been an earnest and consistent member of the Republican party from its organization, but he has always been a devoted friend of the working men of the country. A graduate from their ranks, he knows all their wants, needs and trials, and no man has done more for their alleviation.

Whenever you hear a Democrat talk about the economy practiced by his party, ask him how about the Sixty-five Thousand Dollars they spent in impeaching Gov. HOLDEN, and to explain the economy of spending over Twenty Thousand Dollars in passing an unconstitutional Convention bill. Economy with a vengeance!

Labor lost—the abuse piled up against Gov. CALDWELL for refusing to order the Constitutional Convention election last year. The people endorsed his action at the ballot box. They will again stand by our noble and true-hearted Governor.

Gen. LEVENTHORPE is the Democratic candidate for State Auditor. In 1864 he arrested poor women because their husbands refused to fight against the flag. He dragged them off from their little children, to his "bull pen," and denied them even a moment's privacy. The Raleigh News says he was nominated as a reward for his war services!!

Republicanism is only another name for enlightened progress. It dares to grapple honestly and boldly with every important question of the times. Unlike Democracy, it looks forward, not backward, and no sooner receives the fruits of one victory than it advances to still higher ground.

A daily paper started at Keokuk, Iowa, to look after the interests of the firm of GREELEY and BROWN has just come to an untimely end, after a troubled existence of fourteen days. A very little "white hat" literature seems to go a long ways in the Hawk eye State.

Remember, pause and reflect! Where do you find the solid, substantial representatives of Progress and Reform? Is it not, pretty generally, in the Republican Party? As a rule, where they go it is safe to follow.

When we inform the Raleigh News that we never saw its contradiction of the rumor referred to, we hope it will feel more amiable toward us. We never intentionally misrepresent or wrong a cotemporary. Never!

The Republicans of Oregon have a majority of about 1000. They also have a majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. This secures the United States Senator.

"Great speeches" cannot destroy great deeds. It is of little use to try to "abolish" the Hero of the Wilderness with rhetoric, even though hurled at him by so great a man as SUMNER.

The Republicans of North Carolina gave the people the right to vote for and elect every officer created by the Constitution. The Democrats are trying to change the Constitution.

The Republican Party was founded on the principles of universal liberty, justice and the equal rights of all men. It has never departed from these principles.

Who was it that stood like a stone wall in 1871 between the myrmidons of Ku Kluxism and the people? TOD R. CALDWELL. The latter will remember him at the ballot box in August.

Correspondence.

Our Washington Letter.
No. 26.

Washington, D. C., June 13th, 1872.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTIONS.

The Democracy of South Carolina, Misiouri, Vermont, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York have virtually endorsed Horace Greeley. There is no doubt of his nomination at Baltimore. J. A, Hendricks for Governor of Indiana is a strong nomination, and in my opinion he will poll a number of thousand more votes in October than Greeley will in November. Mr. Hendricks is a very respectable gentlemen, and would make by far a safer President of the United States than Horace Greeley to whose support he has been compelled by the crack of the Blair whip.

THE CONGRESSIONAL REPUCLICAN COMMITTEE.

The meeting of the Congressional Union Republican Committee which was held yesterday was fully attended, Senator Wilson tendered his resignation as chairman, and Senator Chandler was elected in his place, and a resident executive committee was appointed consisting of Senator Harlan, Geo. Cooke, Hon. B. R. Cowan, Hon. Fred Douglass, and Hon. J. M. Edmunds. Senator Harlan was elected chairman and the Hon, J. M. Edmunds, Secretary.. Col. J. R. Hinton, remains as assistant Secretary.

The committee as now constituted is an efficient and energetic working body.

I have known Hon. J. M. Edmunds upon whom the management of the campaign will practically devolve, for some time past. He is without exception the clearest political thinker and most efficient organizer within the ranks of the Republican party. A man of the utmost integrity and fidelity to his trust, He will only employ honorable methods of warfare; but if labor, assiduity skill and energy can accomplish the great work it will not fail for want of these qualities on his part.

THE COLUMBIA LAW COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

This institution turns out annually from sixty to eighty law practicioners—nearly seventy graduated last night.

The commencement was numerously attended by the beauty and fashion of our city, and the floral offerings were numerous.

Assistant Secretary Richardson in a few happy remarks distributed the prizes for the three best prize essays upon law subjects.

It is to be regretted that we have not a similar institution for the graduation of mechanics. Capable, intelligent and aspiring mechanics are the want of our time, and while not one of these graduates in five will be likely to earn a living as a lawyer, we could with confidence precict that future of all, if they were masters of good mechanical trade.

C. M.

Hon. Edmond W. Jones.

Departed this life suddenly in Plymouth N. C., on the 10th inst., Judge E. W. Jones. He had his foibles, but many good qualities of head and heart.

Only those who have felt it know the feelings of one who, for opinions sake had to stem the current of popular opinion, pierced at every step by the sharp arrows of social ostracism. No weapon wrankles more deeply, none more poignant. It falls to the lot of few to have been so unfairly assaulted, socially and politically. Think of a proud man who at one time enjoyed the best society; his home the social retreat of the intelligent and fashionable, cut and estranged by former associates. Why so? Simply because he saw fit to differ with them and his neighbors, on the political issues of the times, and advocate what was the honest convictions of his heart for the common good. This picture will give but a faint idea of what he has undergone mentally and otherwise for his honest political sentiments. His intelligence certainly entitled him to respect. His greatest fault was a physiological defect over which he had no control, and deserved pity, more that censure.

It is human to e'rr, devine to forgive.
Let us cover them over, eyver them over,

The Nomination of Henry Wilson for Vice-President.

The nomination for Henry Wilson for Vice-President is the pryment of an old debt. We have but few men in active public life to whom the country and the party is more indebted for the success of the principles of the Republican cause than Henry Wilson of Massachusetts. He enunciated these principles before the party was born—he carried them forward for years at the head of a forlorn hope. His nomination will ring through the land and will awaken the old anti-slavery element of the country, which to some extent has been stunned by the apostacy of that weak, vain and ambitious old man of the Tribune. Henry Wilson stands pre-eminent for his purity of character. No whisper of calumny has ever been breathed against him. His personal character and his public career are alike untainted. He has ever been courageous, independent and sagacious. His purpose has been steady and determined, and he has never faltered in his devotion to principle. He has always been a poor man, and these long years of public service have left him poorer than when he first entered the field and began the battle with slavery, which he has so persistently contested. As a working man, Mr. Wilson has been, and will be a favorite with the working people. He is a man of pure life, temperate, religious, high-toned and modest. In his "History of American Slavery" he recounts the successive steps of the growth, the arrogance, and the downfall of that institution, a struggle in which he bore so large a part—and the reader hardly kuows that it is Cæsar writing his "Commentaries." He recognizes every fellow-sodier, and places them all in the front, while his own share of the work has no special prominence. Mr. Wilson's nomination is the best that could be made. He is a credit and an honor to the Republican party, and he will most worthily occupy the high station to which the people will elevate him.—Commercial Advertiser.

Grant.—His Acceptance of the Philadelphia Nomination.

On the 10th the President and Vice Presidents of the Convention called at the Executive Mansion and presented to the President the following official notification of his nomination, to which he replied immediately in the letter printed below:

EXECUTIVE MANSION.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10, 1872

Hon. Thomas Settle, President National Republicnn Convention; Paul Strobach, Elisha Baxter, C. A. Sargent, and Others, Vice Presidents;

GENTLEMEN: Your letter of this date, advising me of the action of the Convention held in Philadelphia, Pa., on the 5th and 6th of this month, and of my unanimous nomination for the Presidency by it, is received.

I accept the nomination, and through you return my heartfelt thanks to your constituents for this mark of their confidence and support.

If elected in November and protected by a kind Providence in health and strength to perform the duties of the high trust conferred, I promes the same zeal and devotion to the good of the whole people for the future of my official life, as shown in the past,

Past experience may guide me in avoiding mistakes inevitable with novices in all professions and in all occupations.

When relieved from the responsibilities of my present trust, by the election of a successor, whether it be at the end of this term or the next, I hope to leave to him as Executive, a county at peace within its own borders, at peace with outside nations, with a credit at home and abroad, and without embarrassing questions to threaten its future prosperity.

With the expression of a desire to see a speedy healing of all bitterness of feeling between sections, parties, or races of citizens, and the time when the title of citizen carries with it all the protection and privileges to the humblest that it does to the most exalted I subscribe myself, very respectfully your obedient servant,

U. S. GRANT.

Hints for Summer.

The value of health to the farmer and his family can hardly be put into figures. With the charges of the doctor and the apothecary, however, there is no such difficulty, and the heavy "footing up" is easy enough to read—much easier than to cover it with the necessary "greenbacks." So far as possible, then, we should keep ourselves and our families well by avoiding the causes of disease.

The weak point with the great majority of American, and especially Southern, men and women is the stomach. It is through this organ that most of our diseases reach us, and at this season particularly. Now, we do not desire to set our readers to studying the symptoms of the various diseases of the digestive organs. Such a study is not pleasant, and is seldom profitable. The person with a healthy stomach rejoices in an utter unconsciousness of that organ; but to have a healthy stomach one must treat it with due consideration.

Our summer diseases are mainly the results of a repleted condition of the liver and an overflowing of bile, and present themselves in the form of billious fever and bowel complaints. These are popularly supposed to be due to climatic conditions. This is only partly true. There is no more healthful climate than that of the Southern States generally. It produces billious diseases only when the system itself has been brought into a condition which invites disease. These conditions are produced by unwholesome food and drink, and bad habits generally, and can be mainly avoided.

In the first place, too much animal food is eaten during the hot season, and, for the greater part, in its most harmful form—bacon, and fried bacon at that. Add to this hot bread, or biscuit saturated with lard, and it is no wonder that we are dyspectic and billious, and that, with the help of the summer heat, promoting the fermentation and putrifaction of anything in the stomach not readily digestible, we get sick. Try eating less meat; and let what you do eat be beef or mutton—especially the latter—and avoid hot bread, and heavy, greasy, indigestible biscuits; and if the situation be not improved we are no doctor, and physiology is a fraud.

Fruits and vegetable are, or may be, plentifully supplied during the summer and they are meant to be eaten. Nature plainly indicates this, and experience has again and again demonstrated that she is right. These, with good wholesome bread—that from unbolted wheat flour is best—should make up our principal summer diet.

When we advise eating fruit, we mean ripe fruit. Unripe fruits, unless well cooked, often do great harm. The best time to eat fruit is as a part of our regular meals.

Whiskey is not to be recommended as a common drink, at any time, and in summer only adds fuel to the already too hot fires within. Coffee, if properly made and moderately used, is a good preventive of malaria. A cup may be taken with advantage when obliged to go out into the field before breakfast.

In malarious regions, avoid the water of springs and shallow wells, and make use of cistern water for drinking and cooking purposes. Bathe frequently, to keep the pores of the skin open; give yourself plenty of time to sleep; cultivate cheerfulness; read the NORTH CAROLINIAN, and try to keep a clean stomach and a clear conscience.

Amendment of the Bankrupt Law.

A Bill to amend an act entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the first proviso in section fourteen of an act approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," be amended by striking out the words "eighteen hundred and sixty-four" and inserting in lieu thereof "eighteen hundred and seventy-one."

This Act exempts to the bankrupt such property as the State exemption laws in force in 1871 gives to insolvent persons, to wit: a homestead of the value of $1,000, and personal property of the value of $500, which, together with the $500 exempt under United United States laws, makes an aggregate exemption in bankruptcy of $2,000.

The present status of the Bankrupt Act is very generally misunderstood, even by the profession, and is as follows: The assets which come to the hands of the Assignee must equal 50 per cent. of that part of the debt actually proved against the estate, on which the bankrupt is liable as principal debtor, and which was contracted since January 1st, 1869.

If there are no assets, or if they are insufficient to reach this proportion of the personal debt contracted since January 1st, 1869, proven against the estate, then the bankrupt will be discharged only from all debts contracted prior to January 1st, 1869, and from all surety debts contracted since that time.

Clap-trap and Cant.—Invalid reader, if you are unwise enough to put yourself outside of any of the mock tonics guaranteed to contain "no diffusive stimulant," you will inevitably come to grief. Ask your physician if any liquid preparation, destitute of stimulating properties, is worthy of the name of a tonic. He will tell you no. Shun all such nauseous catchpennies. Plantation Bitters, the most wholesome invigorant in the world, owes the rapidity with which it relieves the disordered stomach and the shattered nerves to the diffusive agent which conveys its medicinal ingredients to the seat of the complaint. That agent is the spirit of the sugar cane, the most nutritious and agreeable of all the varieties of alcohol. The medicinal ingredients of the Bitters, valuable as they are, would be comparatively useless without this distributive basis. They would ferment and sour. Beware, as you hope for health, of the horrible compounds of refuse drugs in a state of fermentation which humbugs are endeavoring to foist upon the public as medicines.

Payment of Cotton Claims.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular in accordance with the law recently passed, authorizing and directing him to pay to the lawful owners, or their legal representatives, for all cotton seized after June 30, 1865, by the agents of the Government, unlawfully and in violation of their instructions, the net proceeds, without interest, of the sales of said cotton actually paid into the Treasury. The Secretary has established rules and regulations on the subject. The claimant, upon completing the proofs relied on to sustain his claim, is required to notify the Secretary in writing, and after the expiration of the six months allowed by the act of Congress for filing claims, the cases will be taken up and disposed of in the order in which such notifications have been received, unless further delay is asked by the claimant or demanded by public interests.—Norfolk Day Book.

General Summary.

Wolf scalps in Illinois bring $15.00 apiece, and some of the farmers are selling out sheep and stocking up in wolves.

On the 19th, at Weldon, a part of the staging of the new railroad bridge being built for the Petersburg Railroad Company fell in carrying down a car and crippling two colored men. C.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will not raise the dead, but it will benefit and cure the living. For all severe Coughs. Throat and Bronchial diseases it has never been equaled.

Mr. Greeley is now described by the World as "the silent champion of free trade," and again as "the much-lamented ex-protectionist." Verily, this is the unkindest cut of all.

The Troy Times, which a little while ago the Tribune claimed for Greeley, predicts that the people will re-elect Grant by such a majority as will put to shame the puny malice of his enemies.

The Titusville (Penn.) Herald, which a little while ago the Tribune claimed for Greeley, says that Grant and Wilson are as sure to be successful in November as the sun is to rise to-morrow.

The editor of the Daily Union, a Republican paper published at Columbia, S. C., talegraphed to one of the delegates on the second day of the Philadelphia Convention: "Secoundrels tore down the bulletin announcing Grant's nomination. I have it out again, and will watch it." Of course there are now Ku Klux the South!

The New National Era, Mr. Douglass' newspaper, gives a hearty support to the nominations made at Philadelphia and says: "It shall have in the future, as in the past, but one voice, and that is for Grant and Wilson." Mr. Douglass is the warm personal friend and admirer of Mr. Sumner and would, if he could, have gone with him in opposition to the party: but with Wendell Philips he feels "that no man who values his life can vote for Greeley as against Grant."

Romeo, the elephant so well-known throughout the country, having traveled over nearly all the States, died at Chicago on the 7th of June. A surgical operation was performed on his feet, which brought on lockjaw and death. His feet had become affected; they were greatly inflamed and quite painful. Romeo's sufferings were so acute that he shrank in weight at the rate of 100 pounds per day. In performing the operation, it was discovered that many of the small bones in his feet had become broken, detached and dead. These were removed, but death followed closely after. We have an opinion that the operation was not skillfully done. Had it been undertaken by some man like Bonner, who has made the feet of animals a special study, it is more than probable that the elephant would be alive to-day. If Mr. Bonner was able to cure Dexter of lameness, why should he not have been able to afford relief to Romeo? The diseases of the feet, as a general thing, are treated by bunglers, hence the disastrous consequence—Romeo, it is supposed, was one hundred years old, and Mr. Forepaugh valued him at $50,000.

In 1868, Judge Merrimon and his friends asserted that if the present State Constitution was adopted the white children and the colored children would be forced to attend the same schools. Gov. Caldwell and friends denied this. The Constitution was adopted Who told the truth?

The New Hampshire Palladium says: "In Mr. Greeley's letter of acceptances he used a fine phrase about clasping hands across the bloody chasm. It was done at Philadelphia when abolitionists, Southern aristocrats, and enfranchised slaves voted unanimously to renominate the leader who commanded the soilders that conquered the rebellion."

The New York World says: "What could be more preposterous than for Democrats to take up a candidate who never belonged to their party; who has assailed it for more than thirty years with the utmost license of vituperation; and who has long been regarded by the party to which he really belongs as personally unfit to hold any office? A candidate who is personally so weak and incompetent that even his own partisans have always thought him unfit to hold office, has a slender hold on the voters of the country. A man who neither represents their principles nor is qualified for administrative duties, nor has any chance to get one-fifth as many Republican votes as he is certain to drive off Democrats, is as unpromising a candidate as the Democratic party could think of nominating. It is not possible that the Democratic National Convention should nominate such a candidate."

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Local and Personal.

☞ Judge ALBERTSON holds Court at Roanoke Island, Dare County, next week.

☞ Read the "Hints for Summer" in another column. They are practical and timely.

☞ The "Special Tax" on Distillers has been repealed, to take effect on and after August 1st 1872.

☞ Rev. P. W. MELICK has taken charge of the "News Emporium" and removed it to Water Street. See his advertisement.

☞ The speeches on the occasion of the Flag presentation to the Colored Odd Fellows were handed in too late for this issue. They will appear in our next.

☞ We will furnish the NORTH CAROLINIAN until after the Presidential election for SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS. The cash must accompany each order.

☞ A veteran shop-keeper says that although his clerks are very talkative during the day, they are always ready and willing to shut up at night. Funny, isn't it?

☞ We learn that Hon. T. C. HUMPHRIES of Currituck has decided to run as an Independent Candidate for the Legislature. He is a strong man and he will be elected.

☞ Remember that the meeting of the stockholders of the "Albemarle Agricultural Society" for the election of officers convenes at three o'clock this Thursday P. M.

☞ The news from Currituck and Camden is cheering, likewise from Perquimmans and Chowan. No report this week from any of the other counties. Keep us posted.

☞ Among the arrivals since our last are Hon. C. L. COBB from Washington, D. C., and Hon. K. R. COBB from Galveston, Texas. The former is preparing to enter upon his canvass; the latter will return in a few weeks.

☞ The Colored Odd Fellows held their annual Aniversary celebration at this place on Wednesday of last week. They had a grand parade and in the evening had a supper at Clark's Hall. Everything passed off in good order.

☞ We call the attention of those interested to the Amended Bankrupt Law. It will be seen that it allows all exemptions allowed by any State law on the 1st of January 1871. This will interest a good many people in North Carolina.

☞ A number of the ladies and gentlemen of this place took an excursion trip to Nag's Head on the splendid and fast sailing Schooner "Siam" on Thursday last. They returned on Friday evening and report that Old Ocean appeared in one of its milder moods and that the sand hills are drifting—drifting.

☞ C. A. NASH Esq., has left some very fine potatoes at our office. We had one of them weighed and it brought down the scales to eighteen ounces. J. H. SHAW Esq., who is likewise pretty extensively engaged in potato culture has also laid some "big ones" on our table.

☞ The Northern circulation of our paper makes it a valuable medium for those having lands to sell to advertise. The advertisements, describing the properties for sale, may be sent direct to us, or those preferring to sell through an Agent should send them to GEO. D. POOL Esq., who will properly attend to it for them.

☞ The Chairmrn of the Republican Executive Committee has issued, in poster form, a call for the Convention to nominate officers for this County. The time fixed is Saturday June 29th, at 2 o'clock P. M. The townships are ordered to hold their primary meetings on the 27th. They are each ordered to send five delegates, but "each township will cast their votes in the Convention according to the U. S. Census returns of 1870."

☞ To the inquiries sent us from different parts of the District asking whether we propose taking an active part in this campaign on the stump we reply that we do not. It would too much interfere with all our attending the NORTH CAROLINIAN each week, [illegible] audience than we could address from the forum, and [illegible] no effort in making [illegible] direction. This [illegible] to our friends

☞ There will be a grand Republican Mass Meeting at Cedar Grove, Perquimmans County, on Tuesday July 16th. Eminent Speakers will address the people on the occasion.

☞ Our townsman C. W. GRANDY besides being a good lawyer and a firm Republican is "some" on early vegetables. He has been luxuriating on early cucumbers for the past two weeks. Just think of that!

☞ Dr. R. K. SPEED has written a letter declining the Democratic nomination for Senator. Bad health and pressing business engagements are assigned. He promises to lend every effort of his nature "to placing the Philanthropist, Philosopher, Patriot, Statesman, and Honest Man, Horace Greeley, in the Presidential office on the 4th of March, 1873." Old HORACE should have a copy of the Doctor's letter.

☞ The measles have been prevailing in this locality to a pretty general extent. Nor have they been confined to the children. A number of adult cases have occurred, most of which have been severe. In one instance, that of a young man named ANDREW JACKSON, it proved fatal. After suffering from the epidemic some days, through a little exposure, he took cold, suddenly grew worse and died on Friday last. He was to have been married on the day previous to his death. He was a young man very highly esteemed by all who knew him.

☞ The proceedings of the Republicans of Nixonton, held on Saturday evening last, came too late for this week's paper. They recommended for County officers the following ticket: For Commons, HUGH CALE; for Sheriff, JOHN L. WOOD; for Register of Deeds, JOHN T. PRICE; for Coroner MILES COMMANDER; for Treasurer, BENJ. C. BROTHERS; for Commissioners Geo. D. Pool, James S. Wilcox, Charles W. Smith, Caleb Griffin and Samuel H. Price. For delegates to the County Convention they appointed Geo. D. Pool Jr., S. J. Halstead, T. J. Murden, Benj. Brothers. Jerry Blount, Jno. B. Cartwright, Simeon Rogerson, Abrum Morris, George White, Joseph Shannon and Capt. S. Waters.

☞ This is the last issue of the Third Volume of the NORTH CAROLINIAN. The new Volume begins next week. We are revising our subscription books and all who are too far in arrears will be stricken off. Hence those who fail to receive our paper after this week will know the reason. On paying up they can have their names entered on our new books. Considering the size and the amount of matter furnished each week the NORTH CAROLINIAN is the cheapest paper published in the State. We would like to send it to all who request us to do so, but as it costs a large amount of money to meet the weekly demands of our paper man and our printers, we are compelled to adopt the rule of sending it only to those who pay for it.

☞ The Democrats of Pasquotank held their County nominating Convention in the Court House on Saturday. The attendance was rather meagre and the enthusiasm dull. The proceedings were quiet and orderly. Our folks can beat 'em out of sight in making things lively. But then they made it up in their acrobatic performances on the political rope and in the character of their speeches. Col. MARTIN indulged in the latter, and while he is not the master of invective and vituperation a truly converted Greeley Democrat should be, he made it all up in wandering from the realms of fact into the wilderness of imagination. And Dr. SPEED, he too held forth. He understands the mighty power of language and he uses it on every occasion. S'death! If some of our Radical friends don't lie smouldering under a monument of eight-syllabled adjectives and invectives it is because they are invulnerable to such assaults.

—— The largest delegation appeared from the Rose Dale section of the county, and as the result the Rose Dalcians carried off the major part of the honors. For the Legislature they nominated JOHN M. HINTON of Rose Dale; for Treasurer, J. E. Radford, of Rose Dale, and for Commissioners' Dr. JOHN H. POOL, of Rose Dale, GEO: W. CHARLES, of Elizabeth City, MARK G. GREGORY, of Mt. Hermon, JOHN B. LISTER, of Newbegun Creek, and B. E. JENNINGS, of ——. They made no nominations for Sheriff or Register of Deeds. This is by no means the worst ticket that has been presented to the people of this county. The nominees are mostly men of good sense, one evidence of which is they take and read the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Now that the Democrats have selected their best men let the Republicans be wise and do the same.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.—It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food every organ is starved, every function [illegible]

The system needs sustenance and strengthening; and nothing can do it [illegible] and into more perfect condition than [illegible] a course of ordinary alcoholic [illegible] can never result in [illegible] but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? To answer this question, founded on the unanimous experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse a new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength, and every [illegible] upon which all the functions depend for their [illegible] support. HUMAN WRECK.—Every day and hour we meet with some down specimens of humanity—wrecks that seem past hope of salvage. At least seven-eighths of these might be filled with new vitality, per a course of Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters. Many are sufferers from the reaction of rum-bolstered bitters by powerful minerals. It is characteristic of Dr. Walker's Great Restorative that it is invariable in the effect of these misnamed remedies, and accomplishes, in due time a perfect cure.

NATURE GIVES US TEETH, but she does not preserve and purify them. That must be done with FRAGRANT SOZODONT. The dental bone and its enamel casing are made invulnerable to all destructive influences by the daily use of this fragrant vegetable preparation.

$50,00 DOLLARS WILL BE PAID for any remedy which will cure Chronic Rheumatism, Pains in the Limbs, Back and Chest, Sore Throat, Insect Stings, Croup, Dysentery, Colic, Sprains and Vomiting, quicker than Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment; established in 1847; never fails. Sold by all Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL—Safest and best illuminating Oil ever made. Does not take fire or explode, if the lamp is upset or broken. Over 150,000 families continues to use it, and no accidents of any description have occured from it. Oil House of Charles Pratt, established 1770, New York.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft smooth, and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. This preparation is entirely free from any material detriment to health.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

A Word About Water.

It is now a point pretty well established that dysentery, typhoid fever, and other fatal diseases, possibly cholera among them, are caused by animal and vegetable substances dissolved in the water. Therefore, all supplies of water for drinking and culinary purposes should be carefully inspected. All wells should be well covered, and no sewer should approach a well, and the wash of all accumulations of filth about the premises should be carefully prevented from being carried into any watersupply for the house. It is well to remember that we may get accustomed to drinking impure water and not know it, unless other senses than taste are consulted. A proper attention to this subject, and a determination to use only house water which will not only prevent sickness, may save the life of some member of the family. Much valuable information is said by Dr. A. L. Wood, editor of the Herald of Health, and we extract the following summary of "How Water Gets Foul":

1. The water which falls from the clouds becomes foul by falling through the smoky, dirty air, and the matter from the roofs of houses, on which it falls.

2. Spring and river water becomes foul by freshets.

3. Well water is contaminated by surface impurities, sewerage, cesspools, and by the soil through which the source of supply is accumulated.

4. River water is spoiled for domestic use by the refuse of slaughter-houses, gas-works, and the various manufacturs that pour their refuse into it.

5. Even rain water gets filthy by the settling of such impurities as are washed from the roof by leaks in the pipe, and by not being well covered.

A Few Sheep on the Farm.

The relative profit is much greater from a small flock than a large one.—The grain farmer, no matter how few his acres, can make money by keeping a few sheep. There is always room for them somewhere, and they consume and turn into money food that otherwise would waste. But he must be careful not to overstock. To illustrate: suppose the farmer cultivates only eighty acres, raising grain chiefly. He keeps a few cows and the necessary teams. One fifth of his farm is in pasture, one fifth meadow; one planted, one spring grain, and one wheat. He thinks he has as much stock as he can profitably keep, but if he puts on one sheep to every five acres, he will find their products clear gain. In the spring, early, they can run on the sod which is to be planted, and one sheep to each acre will not hurt the land, yet they will live well. After the crop is in the pasture, and will lean after the fowls to advantage. And on the stubbles after harvest will be felt where cash they come to a need in the fall when there is none of fresh. Through the winter they can be kept on what the other stock would not consume, with the addition of a little grain.—Probably the most profitable are some of the coarser wooled, mutton breeds. Their lambs sell to the butchers for high prices, and when fat, the sheep fetch as much as a yearling steer. Sixteen mutton sheep well managed would produce a yearly income of one hundred dollars, where, if none were kept, nothing would be realized. The greatest drawback is liability to loss by dogs; and it is a disgrace to any State to protect its curs as well as it does that they expel, to a certain extent, the only animal which can cheapen the coat and clothing of the people.—American Rural Home.

Preparing Bones for Manure.

A writer in the Horticulturist says he buys bones of the butcher at a dollar the hundred pounds, and considers them the cheapest fertilizer he can obtain. He transforms them into meal by the following simple and effective process: I have a large water-tight hogshead standing out doors, near the kitchen. In the spring I cover the bottom about six inches deep with dry soil. On this I put a layer of bones about the same depth, and cover them entirely with unleached ashes. On these another layer of bones, then ashes, and so on, until the hogshead is full. I leave it there exposed to the sun and rain all summer and winter, and in the next spring. Then, on removing the contents of the hogshead, I find nearly all the bones so soft that they will crumble to powder under a very slight pressure, and mixed with the ashes and the soil, they give a nice little pile of most valuable manure, ready for immediate use. Any of the bones not sufficiently soft I return to the hogshead again for another twelve months' slumber.

A writer in an English journal states that a small piece of common resinous wood may be softened perfectly by boiling four or five hours—the process making the sap out of the wood which it drinks nearly one-tenth in the operation. The same writer states that tree felled in full leaf in June or July and allowed to remain until every leaf has fallen, will then be nearly dry, as the leaves will not drop off themselves until they have drawn in and exhausted nearly all the sap of the tree. The time required is from a month to six weeks, according to the dryness of the weather.

To measure corn in the crib, add the width of the house of the crib, in inches to the width across the corn in the upper part, also in inches; divide the sum by two, and multiply it by the height and length of the corn in the crib, also in inches, and divide the product by 2,750. The result will give the heaped bushel of ears, two of which will make a bushel of shelled corn. By multiplying the average width, height and length, in inches, together, the cubic contents in inches is found and 2,750 cubic inches make a heaped bushel.

To Cure Mange in Hogs.—Cleanliness is the first requisite. Clean and whitewash the pen. Sprinkle carbolic acid diluted with 100 parts of water, to kill insects; wash also the hogs with warm water and soap, and apply this diluted carbolic acid to the affected; give a small quantity of charcoal in their food, and keep them well bedded.—change the straw often.

PREVENTING IRON GARDEN-TOOLS from rusting.—It is said that if iron garden tools are laid for a few minutes into a solution of soda they will be protected from rusting for a long time, if exposed occasionally to a moist atmosphere.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.
OF VALUABLE
NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,
FOR SALE BY
GEORGE D. POOL.
Real Estate Agent,
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses. all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2.000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $8.500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next. balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. This farm is on one of the most public roads in the County—is in a high state of cultivation—has fine and durable fences, &c. Altogether, it is the richest land and most desirable location, anywhere in the neighborhood of the town. Price $6000—one-half cash, balance in easy payments.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

SUPER-PHOSPHATE.
(We court the Chemist's inquiry.)

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of his Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and every way worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "MARYLAND" it a permanent and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residum. There is no adulterator nor inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of certain benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay.

For Cotton, Wheat and Corn, and as a general stimulant and ailment for worn and impoverished land there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market.

Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery.

BONE DUST $45, BONE MEAL $45, DISSOLVED BONE $42, our own manufacture, in new bags; Eastern and Western BONE DUST $35. PERUVIAN GUANO delivered from Peruvian Government Warehouse at lowest rates. No charge for delivery.

AND LAND RENEWER.

The Sustain is a specific restorer of the exhausted properties of impoverished and over strained land, and will generously repay the cost of its outlay in the quality and quantity of the Tobacco Crop, besides permanently improving the soil and raising it to its virgin standard.

It gives vigor to the young plant, promotes its rapid growth, and insures, in the matured crop a thickened, heavy leaf.

It is prepared similarly to the Maryland except that it contains much more potash and other Tobacco forming properties.

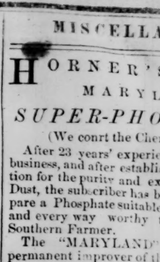
THE WAKEFIELD EARTH CLOSET



THE GREATEST BLESSING OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY IS THE Discovery of the Dry Earth System and in connection therewith a practical method of using the same in

EARTH CLOSETS AND COMMODES,

We ask every decent person to aid us in banishing from the earth every vile country privy—those loathsome, indecent, pestiferous, health and life destroying structures—the bane of every country community. Every person thus engaged becomes a public benefactor.

By all odds the most complete and perfect yet invented is the

WAKEFIELD PATENT.

They have been adopted by the Central Park Commissioners, and 100 ordered for use in the park.

Application for agencies from responsible parties will be considered.

☞ Send for our descriptive pamphlet or call and see the Commodes, at the office of the Wakefield Earth Closet Company.
